Supported Browsers

The New PoliteMail app is designed to work in all modern web browsers, including the most recent three versions of Edge, Chrome, Firefox, Opera, and Safari. Together these browsers account for over 97% of all browser usage globally. A list of other supported browsers is here.

Note that even though some of these browsers even use the same kernel (for example, both Chrome and Edge are based on Chromium), there are inevitably slight differences in the code that may affect how some messages are rendered. As a result, even though PoliteMail will work identically on those browsers, a message created in one may look slightly different when viewed on another browser.
